Town Seeks Parking Funds In Meeting With State Official

By John P. Sawyer

Town Manager Kenneth Mahony puts it this way — "It's encouraging."

At 10:45 this morning in Memorial Hall Library, Secretary David Bartley, executive officer of administration and finance for the Commonwealth, meets with town officials — including Mahony, local businessmen, legislators and Mary M. Doherty, Andover Chamber of Commerce president — to review the town's application for $840,000 in state funds to build a new 200-space parking facility in the downtown area.

The parking lot would be located on a town-owned acre of land just beyond Memorial Hall Library and the Theatre Building, where the senior center and community development offices are situated.

That Bartley is coming to Andover to discuss its request for parking funds does not mean the money is on its way, according to Mahony, but it must mean the question is at least still open.

"This project meets every requirement the state has in their law," says Mahony.

The town should know one way or the other about the funding around Sept. 1.

The parking lot would be 70 percent state-funded and 30 percent town-funded. Some of the 200 spaces would probably be metered and some utilized for monthly parking, according to the town manager, who says the cost of the project to the town would be about $360,000. He notes that revenue from the parking facility would probably be $60,000 or more per year.

Whether the Theatre Building is torn down to make more room for the parking area is still open to question. Mahony says the building is "energy inefficient" and "costly to operate." He says a part of the building is "pretty old" and if there's any part worth saving, "we'll have to consider that." But the town manager did note that the parking lot can be constructed whether the Theatre Building is torn down or not.

Andover is currently beginning the process of updating its master plan — a process that should be always ongoing, says Mahony. The master planning process might get into issues such as parking, but if the town can get 70 percent state funding for the 200 spaces, Mahony explains the town would "speed up" its thinking about alleviating Andover's parking problem.

The town's population has grown from

Towing Is Andover Answer To Boston's Denver Boot

By John P. Sawyer

One person got zapped for $730 plus towing charges — but he paid the bill.

You could likewise walk back to your car one day and not find it if you haven't been paying your Andover parking ticket violations.

The town began its crackdown Tuesday, towing away four automobiles, according to Police Chief James Johnson.

"We've been planning this for some time," said Town Manager Kenneth Mahony. "We are in a crackdown. We are going to tow them away."

And Mahony noted that the town's computer system — "Andover's answer to the Boot" — will make it easier to track offenders.

Armed with a new law, officials can tow any vehicle with five unpaid parking violations and impound the car until the fines are paid. You not only pay the fines, but you're also charged for the towing and vehicle storage if you don't pay up. And if you still don't pay, the town can sell your car for the amount owed.

Everyone towed on Tuesday paid their fines that day, the police chief said, so that they could pick up their cars.

Of the 10,000 tickets issued during the first six months of this year, according to Johnson, only 24 offenders have five or more violations. Most people are paying. Most of the 24, however, are from out of town and have run up bills in the $300 and $400 range.

Here's how the parking fine schedule works:

TICKETS are issued for a $5 or $10 fine with a 21-day hearing notice.

IF a ticket is not paid in 21 days or a request for a hearing is not received, a notice is sent out with a hearing date. And the fines are now set at $10 and $20.

IF the ticket is not paid within 21 days from the date of the notice mailing or if the person does not attend the hearing, the fine is increased to $35 per violation.

IF five or more violations are not paid, the offender can be taken to criminal court,

Honored

Patrolman Larry Lynch, left, was recently honored by his colleagues and friends, retiring after 20 years as a member of the Andover Police Department. Lynch is being presented a retirement badge from Chief James Johnson, one of a number of gifts he received at a reception held at the Andover Elks Lodge. He has retired to Florida.

Zipeto Awarded Master's

Andover resident John F. Zipeto was recently awarded the Master of Public Health degree by Boston University School of Medicine's School of Public Health (SPH).

Currently employed as an environmental engineer for the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, Zipeto specialized in public health law while a student at SPH. He is state coordinator for administering the New England hazardous waste cleanup program for Connecticut, New Hampshire and Vermont.

A 1964 graduate of Brockton High School, Zipeto received an undergraduate degree in biology and chemistry in 1968 from Tufts University. He was awarded a master's degree in environmental engineering by Northeastern University.

He resides on Canterbury Street with his wife, Ellen, and his children, Matthew, age 11, and Diana, age 8.

Zipeto was one of 77 members of this year's graduating class of SPH, representing the largest number of students to graduate from the school since it was designated a school within the School of Medicine in July 1979. The program at SPH is principally designed to offer evening courses to health-care professionals and others seeking to pursue an advanced degree in public health without interrupting their careers.

Nuclear Group Plans Vigil, Film

Andover Citizens For A Nuclear Weapons Freeze has two events coming up.

On Friday, Aug. 6, members will participate in a vigil to commemorate the bombing of Hiroshima and Nagasaki from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. in front of Town Hall. All others wishing to participate are invited.

On Monday, Aug. 9, a film, "The War Games," which depicts the effects of a simulated nuclear attack, will be shown at Lawrence Savings Bank, Shawsheen Square, at 7:30 p.m. The public is invited. There is free parking and air conditioning.

Town House Topics

Light Agenda For Selectmen Monday

The Board of Selectmen have come up with another light mid-summer agenda for next Monday night's meeting, prompting a forecast for another brief meeting (their last session lasted less than 30 minutes.)

The major topic: a public hearing on an alleged liquor license violation by Plaza West Beverages of North Main Street. A small number of routine items make up the balance of the agenda.

The selectmen's meeting will convene at 7:30 p.m. at the Town Hall conference room.

Special Evening Registration

The town clerk's office at Town Hall will be open from 6:30 to 7:30 Tuesday night, Aug. 10, for the convenience of townspeople who wish to register to vote.

Town Clerk Elden Salter says residents should bring along some form of identification — a tax bill or utility bill will do — to prove that they live in Andover.

Townspeople have until Aug. 17 to register to vote in the Sept. 14 primary. Up until that date, voters may also change their registration to allow them to vote on either the Democratic or the Republican ballot. The party designation may then be switched again before the Nov. 2 vote.

Comprehensive Planning To Be Discussed

The Planning Board next week will devote the better part of another meeting to their top-priority topic for the summer: comprehensive planning.

The planners are scheduled to meet Tuesday night, Aug. 10, at the Essex Street theatre building. They will continue their discussion of how to get the comprehensive planning process, approved by 1982 annual town meeting, underway, with the help of planning consultant Ronald Curran.

Updating the master plan is expected to get going in earnest after Labor Day.

The only other item on the planning board's agenda is discussion of the proposed Maple Terrace subdivision. The deadline for that decision has been extended to Aug. 11.

Ballardvale Group Meets Wednesday

The Ballardvale Village Improvement Society will meet Wednesday, Aug. 11, at 7:30 p.m. at the Ballardvale Library, 195 Andover St. Candidates for 17th Essex District Representative have been invited to attend and will discuss issues and answer questions. The public is welcome to attend.

Kaleidoscope Courses Moved

Due to heavy construction at the high school, Kaleidoscope courses have been moved to West Elementary School. All participants should have been contacted either by phone or by mail.

utes early (8:50 a.m.) on the first day.

There are no openings in any of these courses.

Planning Meeting Scheduled

The Women's Resource Center, a United Fund Agency, will sponsor a meeting at its office at the YWCA, 38 Lawrence St., on Aug. 11 from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. for people interested in helping plan activities for a week of unity against violence against women in the home.

The week of unity will be observed Oct. 11-17 by battered women's groups across the country. Here in Massachusetts, the slogan for the week is Never Another Battered Woman and observances are being planned in several cities. The purpose of the week is to commemorate women who have suffered or lost their lives as a result of violence in the home, to celebrate the work being done by battered women and their supporters to combat the abuse and aid those who have suffered in rebuilding their lives. In addition, it is hoped that the week will call public attention to the prevalence of violence perpetrated on women by the men they live with and enlist community support for efforts to end the violence.

Among activities being considered in Greater Lawrence are a public information night, a march and rally and presentations to schools and community groups. In addition, ringing of church bells on Oct. 17, the national day of unity, will be explored. The ringing of church bells has been a part of observances of the day of unity

Activities At The Playgrounds

Tiny Tots

The fifth week of West Elementary Tiny Tots playground was packed with fun and excitement. The week began with pinwheel making and plaster of paris handprints on Monday. Brad Cronin, Valerie Reilly and Sara Parent enjoyed making the colorful pinwheels, while Eric Milligan, Chris Foster and Chris Logan made awesome handprints. Hannah Edmons and Caitlin O'Connor stayed away from the goofy mess at first, but once they realized how much fun everyone was having, they joined right in. Instead of playing pin-the-tail-on-the-donkey, we played pin-the-nose-on-the-clown with Sara Parent, Hannah Edmons and Brad Cronin coming the closest. On Tuesday everyone enjoyed a wonderful trip to Pumps Pond. The weather, lifeguards and kids were all excellent. Randy Romano, Danny Piekini, Andy Baron and Andy Small especially enjoyed Wednesday's trip to South School to see "The Little Red Wagon." Thursday was a fun and rather messy day with the decorating of gingerbread men with icing, jimmies and candy. Lisa Rogers was an enthusiastic participant. Danny Ahles, Tim Franz, Matt Little, Sara Parent and Lisa Longhetti enjoyed coloring their own t-shirts with crayons to make beautiful decals. Scott Brodsky, Teddy Crandall, Lee Palmer, Craig Hartwell, Adam Jasne and Erick Earle all enjoyed the cookout. The week ended with a bang on Friday with a cookout and sprinkler party, along with a kids vs. staff water balloon fight, which the kids, naturally, won.

SPARC

On Thursday SPARC spent the day at North Andover making popcorn and watching movies. We also made paper flowers for our stained glass bottles. Friday was Sports Day. Activities included relay races, water bucket relays, foul shooting contests and shoe scrambles. The winning relay team included Freddy Williams, Kelly Bellisle, Laurie Gallagher, Richard Lally and Rebecca Richmond. The water bucket relay ended in a tie with all teams winning one. Great efforts were made by Julie Sullivan, Meg Johnston and Pam McEvoy. The foul shooting contest was won by Joanne Connors with Steve Sorrie and John Ippolito coming in closely behind. The shoe scramble was a very close contest with Lucy Marjarian and Laurel Taylor setting the pace. After the games everyone enjoyed lunch with the champions. SPARC went back in time on Monday. First we went gravestone rubbing; it was an eerie experience. After baking a successful batch of cookies, SPARC went back in time again taking a tour of a 17th-century home. The whole day was great! The annual car wash was held on Tuesday. Many people came after the news of experienced car washers was announced. SPARC went to South School on Wednesday to play games and watch a terrific show.

West

Week no. 5 was another exciting one at West

Elementary. On Monday Dave Charland, Andy Brent and Eric Begg were featured in a game of hurricane. We also worked on our playground pinatas. Christine Spignesi, Andrea Spignesi and Nicole Kelley were also included in the project. Monday ended with an all-playground scavenger hunt. The winning team consisted of Andy Brent, Adam Stanke, Ann Marie Charland, Debbie Green and Jenny Segul. Tuesday we had a variety of craft projects. Gimp, an all-time favorite was braided by Rachel Zenofsky, Layne Whitley, Richard Marique and Liz Pratt. Three dimensional pictures were also created by such industrious playgrounders as Katie Pratt, Nicole Kelly and Elizabeth Pratt. Wednesday everyone traveled to South School for the Little Red Wagon family performance. Some happy participants were Kristi Amirito, Jenni Amirito, Staci Amirito, Todd Abernathy, Stacy Bellisle, Donny Bellisle, Leslie Wilkinson, Jannette Gray, Amy Cohen and Gina Jo Kontanakos. Thursday and Friday we had a hat day and another famous weekly cookout.

The Tech

Monday was jewelry day on the Vo-Tech playground as everyone made terrific bracelets and necklaces out of beads. Amy Smith, Elisa Derby, Adam Freidlander and Brenda Brightman all made some great jewelry. On Tuesday, after a busy day playing kickball, prison dodgeball, shipwreck and other active games, we all sat down and made some gorp, consisting of peanuts, raisins, M&Ms, corn chex and bran chex. It was so popular we made it again on Wednesday. After the Little Red Wagon Caravan on Wednesday morning, we had a fantastic kid vs. counselors prison dodgeball game. The outcome was very close and everyone had fun. Jason Olson, Matt Zipeto, Eszter Vajda and Jared Greenberg all helped hold off the counselors. On Thursday we had a great carb soccer game and everybody had fun playing their favorite board game. Friday's highlight was a nature walk which ended with a picnic. Week five continued the tradition of the all-day playground being all-day fun.

Ballardvale

Last Friday Ballardvale joined South, Bancroft and West Elementary at Pumps Pond. Some Vale kids biked while others walked. Matt and Wayne Davis, Scott and Steve Sarcione and Jodi Jangro were some of those who enjoyed the cookout there. Monday Ballardvale went to South to have a car wash and to sell lemonade. Some South kids joined in and helped Scott Sarcione, Rejji Hayes and others wash cars, vans and trucks. Cindy and Colleen Sherry and Kim Nutter recruited more South kids to help sell lemonade. On Tuesday Lisa and Rejji Hayes, Cathy Guiliani, Beth Ross and Wend and Tracey Townsend made beautiful bead necklaces, bracelets and then went to play some board games. Rejji had some softballs pitched to him and hit a grand slam over the fence. On Wednesday Cathy Guiliani and Lisa Hayes learned how to walk on sticks at South. The Rejji Hayes, Angela and Vicki Guiliani joined them to watch The Little Red Wagon.

Playgrounds

South

It was raining last Thursday so South playground decided to visit Sanborn School. Ballardvale and West were already there. Most of the kids joined in the bombardment game. Some of South's players were David Corbett, Joshua Russo, Erin Lynch and Sherry LaPlante. Friday the weather got much nicer so we walked to Pumps Pond and had a nice day in the sun. A few kids rented canoes and paddled around the pond, Robert Dawley, Scott Bernard, John Eckels, Eliza Edelsberg and Janine Meckel. Friday was the last day for counselor Larry Cuddy. The kids chipped in and bought him 20 different kinds of ice cream for a present. Monday was a beautiful day for a bike hike. We went from South to Rose Glen to town, then back to school. It took about two hours. Mark and Eliza Edelsberg, Todd and Scott Gray, Michele and Suzanne Doucette, Michele and Nicole Gorton, Ryan Evans, David Corbett, Scott Bernard, Joshua Russo and Robert Dawley went. The rest of the kids stayed and helped Ballardvale sell lemonade and wash cars. They all had a great time. Tuesday we had a very long game of capture the flag. The kids hid the flags so well that one is lost forever. Some of the better players were Aaron Russo, Glen Wilson, Laurie Picardi, Kim and Jonathan Germain, Ricky Crispo and Mike Morrison. Wednesday all the playgrounds came to South to watch The Little Red Wagon Show.

Bancroft Preschool

The Galloping Gourmet visited our playground. On Tuesday we made tacos for Mexican Day. They were spicy and everyone loved them, especially Robbie Bralower, Peter Bolway, T.J. Witham, Julia Darling and Sarah King. Thursday we read the story of "Stone Soup" and everyone brought veggies in for the soup. We didn't eat the stone, of course! Wednesday we took the big yellow bus to South School to see the show. John DeMember was the star of the "Super Ham" movie. Steven Bardsley, Matt Bausemer, Bradford Croteau, Jeff DeBeer, Chris Dell'Accio and Taylor Gleason enjoyed the act. Elaine Yee, Steven Carter, Chris Dunn and Jessica Derby made houses from cardboard boxes. We made birdfeeders, but our friendly Bancroft squirrels stole them.

Bancroft

The week started off with street hockey and wiffleball baseball. Otherwise it was a relatively quiet Monday. On Tuesday there was a Jokari Tournament, contestants were The Saalfranks, Billy Batchelder, Peter "Georgia" Newton, Matt McVicar and the Murphy's. The final round of the tournament was a battle between Jimmy Saalfrank and Ryan Murphy. Jimmy won the tournament 21-15. On Wednesday everyone went to South School to watch The Little Red Wagon. Thursday the playground split into two teams for a treasure hunt. Each team received delicious prizes. On Friday we had a bike hike to Pumps Pond where we had the weekly cookout. At the end of the day we had a scavenger hunt and a watermelon. New to the playground this week were Amy, Matt and Peter Daniels, Jeremy, Matt and Rachel Levine and Suzanne and Kevin O'Brien.

Sanborn

Another fulfilled week began with a game of kickball. On Monday we established our own official Sanborn Art Gallery because we have so many talented artists. Jenny Richardson, Debbie Shay, Alexis and Erica Campbell made great contributions to the collection of pictures. Tuesday we enjoyed great weather. Pappu and Shilpa Marathe, Kim and Jennifer Anderson and many others took this opportunity to make colorful chalk drawings on the sidewalks. These pictures were lost to Wednesday's rain. Though the weather was dismal outside, plenty of activity was carried on inside. Tye-died t-shirts were made with the help of Mary. Those not tye dying participated in floor hockey, kick and run and Sanborn's all time favorite, battleball. Walter Anderson, Jonathan and Jeff Leonard, Jonathan Lewis, Jamie Dolan and Lisa Horgan all played very well. Robbie Lewis, A.J. McCray, Debbie Sahy, Matt and Mike McCarthy and Sean and Una Gauthier went to The Little Red Wagon Show on Wednesday. Branna and Brad Cronin tested our first aid skills by supplying us with their injuries. Luckily we were prepared. Amy Pierro was named helper of the week by helping to sweep the halls. Thursday was Pajama Day. Many enjoyed the pancake breakfast. Participants came straight out of bed still wearing their pajamas. A stuffed animal contest was also held. Prizes awarded were: best all around, Andre Biondo; most original, Kristen Schmul; most original name, Carol Blaney; softest, Erica Campbell; most hugged, Shilpa Marathe; biggest, Brad and Brenna Cronin; littlest, Debbie Shay; most loved, Jason Croteau; most resemblance to owner, Emily; cutest, Alexis Campbell; most colorful, Pappu Marathe and Tommy Peccaro; most sleepest looking, Chris Cox and Kim Anderson; Patty's choice, Jenny Richardson; most fitting name, Jenny Anderson; Mary's choice, Jennh Peccaro; Sharon's favorite, Gordon; most life like, Colleen Shephard; Charlie's choice, Aaryn Schmul.

Elected Council President

Alton W. Noyes

Alton W. Noyes, executive director of Lawrence General Hospital, has been elected president of the Merrimack Valley Hospital Council. The Merrimack Valley Council represents all eight regional councils associated with the Massachusetts Hospital Association.

Also elected were James Frame, president of St. Joseph's Hospital, Lowell, as vice president, and Robert Donovan, president of Lowell General Hospital, as secretary-treasurer. The council meets monthly and deals with all matters relating to the council's hospital members and other items concerned with health care needs in the Merrimack Valley.

Noyes, who has been associated with Lawrence General Hospital since 1971, is a fellow in the American College of Hospital Administrators. He lives with his wife and three sons in Andover.

Singers' Workshop Gets Grant

Singers' Workshop, summer home and training ground for the North Parrish Treble Chorus, recently was awarded a Massachusetts Arts Lottery Grant for the Performing Arts by the North Reading Arts Council. In its sixth consecutive year, this week-long experience, from Aug. 16-20, is open to any child between the ages of 8 and 15 with a keen interest in music. Held at the Union Congregational Church in North Reading center, this summer music school will utilize the much needed grant monies for a private voice instructor. The workshop still has limited openings, particularly for boys.

Marie Stultz, founder and music director, has selected Carolyn Kingston of Belmont, to fill the position made possible by the grant monies. Mrs. Kingston has her masters from Indiana University in voice and is on the staff of the Belmont School of Music, as well as voice instructor in the New England Conservatory Preparatory Department.

Enrollments will close Aug. 9, thus interested candidates should respond immediately.

Computers For Kids Offered

Northern Essex Community College will offer "Computers for Kids," a one-week, non-credit workshop, at the Greater Lawrence Regional Technical School, Andover, Aug. 16-20 from 9 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. The program is open to students who will enter grades 5-7 in the fall.

Designed for youngsters who have had no previous exposure to computers, this workshop will provide students with a general orientation to computers including hands-on experience. The enrollment is limited to 15 students so that each child will receive individual attention.

Camille Biafore, who teaches Introduction to Computers at the Greater Lawrence Technical School, will be the instructor.

Additional information may be obtained by calling Mary Jane Gillespie in the Division of Continuing Education and Community Services at Northern Essex.

It's now possible to grow an entire organism from single cell taken from a parent organism. It's already been done successfully with plants, but it's still the subject of science fiction in reference to humans. What's the process called? Cloning.

Join Staff At Lawrence Hospital

Three Andover residents are among the new graduate nurses who have joined Lawrence General Hospital's (LGH) staff on medical/surgical units.

A diploma graduate from Malden Hospital School of Nursing, Cynthia Carmichael, G.N., who has worked as an L.P.N. at LGH since 1975, has joined LGH's full-time staff.

Donna Manning, G.N., a diploma graduate of Lowell General Hospital's School of Nursing, has become one of the full-time graduate nurses. During school, Manning worked as a nurses aide on LGH's pediatric unit.

Jean Sangermano, G.N., a B.S.N. graduate from the University of Lowell, also joins the staff. For three years prior to her graduate, she worked as a nurses aid at a Lowell hospital.

The public overwhelmingly prefers the litter/recycling law alternative, according to a survey by Cambridge Reports Inc. The survey found that 55 percent of the population preferred the alternative while only 31 percent opted for the mandatory deposit law. These comprehensible programs attack all forms of litter through a combination of litter clean up programs, public education, litter law enforcement and recycling incentives.

CPR Course

Choate Symmes Health Services will offer a basic CPR class plus a CPR recertification class during August. The Basic Rescue (CPR) class will be held on three Wednesdays, Aug. 11, 18 and 25, from 7 p.m. to 10 p.m.; the CPR re-certification course will be Monday, Aug. 30, from 6:30 p.m. to 10:30 p.m. All classes will be held in the Residence Building at Symmes Hospital, Hospital Road, Arlington.

The American Heart Association, through which students will be certified, recommends these courses as a basic life support that can keep victims of heart attacks, drownings, choking, electrocutions, alive until a rescue unit or physician is available.

Municipal Donors

Employees of the Town of Andover and Software international took time out to give blood for the American Red Cross last week. The day long program was very successful as donors visited the Veteran's Hall at the Andover Haven for a very worthy cause. Photos clockwise from top: Selectman Gerry Silverman gets his blood pressure taken by Nancy McGrail R.N. before donating blood; Maxine Newlander R.N. a nurse for the American Red Cross instructs Paula Fiorino, coordinator of the Blood Drive for Software International, to relax as she inserts a needle; Everett Penney, Director of Public Health for the Town of Andover, feels fine as Doris Kennedy R.N. removes the needle and blood donation.

Representative 17th Essex District

Harriet Ahouse

Harriet Ahouse, Democratic candidate for the 17th Essex district representative's seat, reported this week that she recently met with James Gutenshon, executive director of the Coalition for Safe Waste Management, Inc.

She learned, Ahouse said, that most high tech industries in the Merrimack Valley produce hazardous wastes, which they must ship to Alabama for disposal. That transportation is "extremely costly to the industries," she said.

She added that while at least one industry has built a hazardous waste recovery facility in Greater Lawrence, most industries have yet to establish safe waste management programs. Building facilities is important, she said, "but not the entire solution."

Ahouse's campaign schedule for the coming week includes a candidates' coffee at Frye Circle on North Main Street at 7:30 tonight, Aug. 5.

Brian Bresnahan

Brian Bresnahan, Democratic candidate for the 17th Essex District representative's seat, will speak at a Sports Night at the Andover Lodge of Elks tonight, Aug. 5, open to the public.

Among the guests will be Dave McGilvery, Carl Yazstremski, Sr., Derek Sanderson, and Spike Boda, golf pro at the Andover Country Club. A small admission fee will be charged.

During the coming week, the candidate will also continue his door-to-door campaign, "knocking on doors" throughout the district every evening from 5 p.m. to dusk. This week he plans to concentrate on Precinct Two in Andover.

And on Saturday, Bresnahan staffers will be stationed at supermarkets in Andover and Lawrence to poll townspeople on their feelings on major issues, including tax reform and Proposition 2½.

Vincent P. Davey

Vincent P. Davey, 23 Enmore St., Democratic candidate for state representative in the 17th district, says local residents are concerned that while Proposition 2½ was a good idea, cities and towns have not cut out the "fat" but rather the "vital organs."

He says those who voted for Prop. 2½ did not wish to see cuts in police and fire protection.

Davey is also concerned about reallocation of funds that come back to the town. He says if the school department or the public works department, for example, account for a certain part of the budget, they should be the recipients of a likewise percentage of any monies coming back.

He plans to attend a meeting of the Ballardvale Improvement Association Wednesday night, August 11, and he also plans to continue his door-to-door campaigning and his visibility along Main Street. He stresses he would give up his teaching job and become a full-time and fully-concerned state representative.

John R. Fox

John R. Fox, 50 Walnut Ave., Democratic candidate for 17th district state representative, wants the campaign for office to be issues-oriented rather than a visibility contest among the several candidates.

"It upsets me to find many of the candidates appear reluctant to discuss issues," he said.

Fox is a proponent of a nuclear arms freeze, calling it "very important." He said he is the only candidate to come out publicly on the issue. He is also encouraging debates among the candidates, which he said will allow voters to make a "more informed" decision at the polls.

Two major points of Fox's campaign focus on education and elderly services. He would consider a 3-5 cent cigarette tax to create funds to compensate for the lack of federal funds for education. He is interested in sustaining elderly services, maintaining they are entitled to hold on to what they have. Fox also believes the Lawrence part of the 17th district does not receive proper attention. He will attempt to improve labor's bargaining power statewide.

Fox will appear today at the Knights of Columbus, 5-10 p.m. for a ham and bean supper. Tickets can be bought at the door. On Sunday, he will attend the Elks Family Outing, 12-6 p.m. at the Lawrence Elks. On Wednesday, August 11, he will attend the Ballardvale Improvement Association at 7:30 p.m., which he called the "first of the debates."

Gerry Grasso

"Most of my politicking is knocking on doors," says Gerald Grasso, 6 Arthur Road, Democrat for state representative in the 17th district.

He has a full schedule coming up.

Tomorrow at 1 o'clock he will appear at the Senior Center.

"I'm 100 percent behind making sure senior citizens' benefits are not decreased in any way," he says. Proposition 2½ should not cut their benefits, according to Grasso, who says senior citizens provided for us when we were younger, and now we should look out after them.

On Saturday, Grasso will be out on his bicycle riding around town and meeting people. He notes his wife is from Tower Hill in Lawrence and that he is a Lawrence native, so that he is likewise familiar with those areas outside of Andover that are included in the 17th district.

On Sunday, he will attend breakfast at the Franco-American Club in Lawrence. Next Thursday, August 12, is his Pomp's Pond Fun Run fundraiser at 6:30 p.m. Grasso says he tries to be as visible as he can. During the summer, when he is not teaching, Grasso has been house-painting to help raise money for his campaign.

Karen Grasso-Courtney has moved to Andover to manage her father's campaign. She is a graduate of Fitchburg State College where she received a dual major in history and political science. She is presently completing a master's program in labor studies at UMass/Amherst.

Nicholas J. Kolofoles

Nicholas J. Kolofoles, 35 Ames St., Lawrence. Democratic candidate for state representative, notes the problems in Andover and in Lawrence, where the Tower Hill and South Lawrence areas are included in the 17th Essex district, are different.

He's been spending much of his time going door-to-door throughout the district exploring the problems they have.

He will be opening his main headquarters at 468 Haverhill St. in Lawrence tomorrow at 7:30 p.m. The public is invited. There will be refreshments and a question and answer period.

Kolofoles plans to speak on the need for more police and fire protection in the district. He says Proposition 2½ is good for cutting waste but that the money towns do have to spend should be allocated in a "proper manner." He also plans to address the need for more educational assistance, more aid to cities and towns, the plight of elderly people, corruption in government and the need to cut waste at the state level.

He already has offices on Ames and Essex Streets in Lawrence and plans to open an office in Andover soon. He plans to continue his door-to-door campaigning and meetings with service clubs. He is willing to accept any type of debate provided it is not limited to one issue.

Sue Tucker

Sue Tucker, Democrat candidate for the representative's seat in the 17th Essex district, was recently endorsed by the Massachusetts Women's Political Caucus.

One of the purposes of the caucus is to support qualified women candidates for public office. According to Tucker, only ten percent of all elected officials in the nation are women.

Tucker called the endorsement "very meaningful to me."

She also announced this week that she has opened a campaign headquarters at 15 Central St., Andover.

The candidate was scheduled to meet with state and local officials Thursday morning at Memorial Hall Library to discuss possible state funding for additional parking in Andover. She explained that she has been working on the parking problem in town for ten years, as a member of the Central Business District committee.

Tucker said she would also continue "knocking on doors" throughout the district during the coming week, to meet voters and discuss the issues with them.

Kimberly Cronin

Kimberly Cronin will be among the candidates for the 17th Essex District representative's seat to address the Ballardvale Village Improvement Society at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, Aug. 11. The location is yet to be announced.

Cronin, a Republican, said she will discuss her qualifications and why she is running for office, as well as answer questions from the audience.

The candidate will continue to devote most of her energies to "knocking on doors, day and evening," throughout the district from Thursday through Saturday, she indicated.

Covering the district gives her a chance to distribute her campaign literature, and "a chance to talk with the voters," Cronin said.

William E. Melahn

William E. Melahn, 18 Ballardvale Road, Republican running for 17th Essex district state representative, stresses he declared his candidacy before present office holder Gerry Cohen decided not to run.

He says it's the first time a republican has contended for the office since 1974, and he calls a 4-1 ratio of Democrats to Republicans in the State House "unhealthy."

Taxes is a big issue with Melahn; he opposes what he calls a Democratic platform that includes tax increases, particularly in the area of personal services, saying he is "vehemently against that." He notes he is the only practicing attorney running for the office.

He plans to continue door-to-door campaigning over the weekend. He will appear at a meeting of the Knights of Columbus at 4 o'clock tomorrow.

Questions, Answers On Primary

1. Who can vote in a primary?

Registered voters who are enrolled in either Democratic or Republican party or those unenrolled by requesting the ballot of one party on election day.

2. Why vote in a primary?

A primary election is the "playoff" of politics. This is the way the final candidates are chosen. It is an important part of the democratic process and only representative of the people when the people take part.

3. Can a registered Republican vote on the Democratic party ballot?

A registered voter enrolled in either party may change that designation up until Aug. 17 this year at Town Hall. In other words, a Republican can become a Democrat or an "Independent" by going to Town Hall and signing a card.

4. Can an Independent vote in a primary election?

Yes! The election officials will ask which ballot the Independent prefers when he appears at the polling place. He may choose either one.

5. How and where do I register to vote?

Town Hall is the place and proof of age (18 years or older) and local residence is all that is required. Registration must be by Aug. 17 to be eligible for the primary election in September.

6. How are nomination papers related to the Primary?

A party member may sign nomination papers for candidates in his party. This is not a vote, nor is it binding on the signer in any way. Nomination papers are the first step, primary election the second, and final election in November the third in the process.

2 ½ Bulletin

City and town officials coping with budget cutbacks under Proposition 2½ can now turn to a publication of the University of Massachusetts Cooperative Extension Service: Cooperation in the Provision of Services: A Study of Massachusetts and Rhode Island Towns.

Student loans granted.

Introducing two smart loan programs from the BayBanks.

The BayBanks are offering HELP and PLUS loans designed to assist students and their families in meeting the rising cost of higher education.

Higher Educational Loan Program (HELP)

If you're an undergraduate student enrolled in an acceptable degree program, you may qualify for up to $2,500 per year with our HELP loan. Or up to $5,000 per year if you're a graduate student. And repayment doesn't begin until after graduation.

Parental loans to undergraduate students (PLUS)

Plus, with the BayBanks PLUS loan, students' parents can apply for an additional $1,000 to $3,000 per year per child. And a statement of financial condition is not required to determine eligibility; however, a standard credit check will be performed. Furthermore, total financial aid must not exceed the cost of education.

For more information regarding the BayBanks HELP and PLUS loans, simply mail in the attached coupon. With scholarships at a premium, it might be one of the smartest moves you could make.

Wheeler-Lambiris

Mrs. Martyn J. Wheeler

Susan Keith Lambiris, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sotiris Lambiris of Shipman Road, Andover, was married on July 10 to Martyn Joseph Wheeler in a 6 p.m. ceremony at the Cochran Chapel, Phillips Academy. The groom is the son of Mrs. Joan Wheeler and the late Joseph Wheeler of Hartley Vale, Plymouth, England.

The Rev. Dennis O'Pray of Minneapolis officiated.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of candlelight hand-loomed silk with a modified empire bodice, fashioned of Syrian jacquard damask, the gift of the groom. She carried a cascade bouquet of white freesias, stephanotis and ivy, centered with a spray of burgundy Cambria orchids.

The matron of honor was Louise Stites Conrad of Auburn, Ala., and Knoxville, Tenn., who wore a gown of delphinium blue and carried a spray of yellow Promise lilies.

Frederick L. Conroad of Knoxville, Tenn., was best man and ushers were John Lambiris and Elias Lambiris of New York City, uncle and cousin of the bride, respectively.

A reception and dinner at the Andover Inn followed the ceremony.

The bride is an honors graduate of Phillips Academy and Harvard University where she graduated magna cum laude and Phi Beta Kappa. She holds Master of Philosophy and Master of Science degrees from Cambridge University, Cambridge, England, where she was affiliated with Trinity College. She is employed by Cornell University as Visiting Scientist. She will retain her maiden name professionally.

The groom is a graduate of Plymouth College Preparatory School, Plymouth, England, and St. Catharine's College, the University of Cambridge, and will receive his Master of Arts degree from Cambridge in the fall. He is associated with the Climar Division of Torch Computers, Ltd., of Toronto and Cambridge.

Open House

The Wilmington Figure Skating Club, a sanctioned United States Figure Skating Association Club, located off Route 125 in Wilmington, is about to embark on its 15th season of offering a program both for the beginner/recreational skater and for those who have progressed to the patch/freestyle skating skill levels.

The club is open to skaters from all the communities north of Boston.

The Badge Program, designed primarily for the beginner/recreational skater, is a step-by-step learning program which awards colorful badges for successful completion of each of the 12 skill levels.

Because of the confusion over these skating teams and just what is involved in progressing through different levels of skating skills, the public is invited to a special open house on both Sept. 7 at 5:30 p.m. and Sept. 8 at 4:20 p.m. to see actual demonstrations by skaters and to view a video tape of the club's 1982 skating show.

Magner-Wansker

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph P. Magner

Sally Wansker, the daughter of Mr. Richard J. Wansker and the late Margaret R. Wansker of 190 Kennedy Drive, Malden, was married to Joseph P. Magner on June 19 at the Free Christian Church, Andover.

The groom is the son of Mrs. Joan Magner and the late Edward Magner of 101 Pine Grove Ave., Lynn.

The Rev. Jack Daniel and the Rev. Thomas Motherway officiated at the ceremony.

The maid of honor was Dr. Pamela Wansker of Portland, Me., the bride's sister. Bridesmaids were Beverly Johnson of Melrose, Lisa Magner of Lynn, and Kathy Ricker of Boothbay Harbor, Me.

James Mackin of Lynn, cousin of the groom, was best man. Ushers were Dave Welch of Hawthorne, Calif., Richard Wansker of Georgetown, and Charles Alagero of Saugus.

A reception followed the ceremony at the Bellevue Gold Club in Melrose. After a wedding trip to Bermuda and North Conway, N.H., the couple is at home in Wakefield.

The bride, a graduate of Masconomet Regional High School in Boxford and the University of Maine in Farmington, Me., is employed by the Department of Social Services in Lynn.

Her husband, a graduate of St. Mary's High School in Lynn and Merrimack College in North Andover, is employed by the Department of Social Services in Lawrence.

Summer Festival Of Music At Academy

The music department of Phillips Academy in Andover announces the final concerts of its seventh annual Summer Chamber Music Festival on Sunday, Aug. 8, at 7 p.m. in Cochran Chapel and Wednesday, Aug. 11, at 3 p.m. in Kemper Auditorium and at 8 p.m. in Cochran Chapel.

The Aug. 8 concert will feature the Academy Symphony Orchestra. The program consists of Mozart's overture to the opera "The Marriage of Figaro," Mendelssohn's Symphony No. 5, "The Reformation," Rossini's "Wilhelm Tell" and "Afro-American Symphony," a work by the Black American composer William Grant Still.

The Wednesday afternoon concert will be the final chamber concert of the season. It will feature works by Brahms, Mendelssohn, Mozart, Schubert, Beethoven and Strauss.

The evening concert will close the Summer Festival with an "Entirely Mozart" concert. The program will include the overture to the "Marriage of Figaro," the Sinfonia Concertante in E flat major for violin, viola and orchestra with Eugene Wong and David Vogel as soloists, and the Missa Brevis k.

220 (Sparrow Mass) in C major for choir and orchestra.

The public is invited to all these events. There is no charge for admission.

Pelletier In Methuen Concert

On Wednesday, Aug. 11, the summer series of organ recitals will continue at the Methuen Memorial Music Hall with a concert by organist, Eugene Pelletier, at 8:30 p.m.

Born in Lowell, Pelletier, a pupil of George Faxon and Theodore Marier at Boston University, continued his studies at the Gregorian Institute in Paris with Edouard Sauberbielle and later at the Paris Conservatory with Rolande Falcinelli. He teaches at two of the Paris Municipal Conservatories and has held several church positions there, replacing Bernard Gavaty for the last ten years at St. Louis des Invalides. He has recorded with the Paris Brass Ocket, and recently recorded a work for flutes and organ, "Azan" by Rolande Falcinelli.

For his recital Pelletier will present the following selections: Sphonie No. 8 en si majeur, opus 42, I Allegro Risoluto - C.M. Widor (1844-1937); a Triple Choral, opus 41 - Charles Tournesice (1870-1939); Variations - Etudes sur use Berceuse, opus 48 -

Rolande Falcinelli (born 1920); and "Evocation," a poeme syphonique, three movements, opus 37 - Marcel Dupre (1886-1971).

The Methuen Music Hall has become a mecca for both the performer and the listener in the realm of organ music. Since the incorporation of the Music Hall in 1946, the Great Organ has been played by hundreds of organists including those from many foreign countries. few instruments in the history of American organ building have had as long or distinguished a career. It was the first concert organ in this country, and it remains one of the outstanding organs in America.

The next concert will be held Aug. 18 with Donna Autula, organist.

To Wed Next August

Nancy A. Kelley

Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. David J. Kelley, 228 Haggetts Pond Road, Andover, announce the engagement of their daughter, Nancy A., to Scott F. Donahue, son of Frank Donahue, 195 Holt Road, Andover, and Mrs. Carol Nelson, Waterford, Va.

Miss Kelley graduated from Andover High School and Bryman School, Brookline. She is a dental assistant for Stephen H. Halem, D.M.D., Andover.

Her fiancé graduated from Andover High School and is a First Classman at Virginia Military Institute.

A May 1983 wedding is planned.

Arts Fest

Plans are well under way for the second annual Arts Fest to be held at the Topsfield Fairgrounds from Oct. 2-13 in the new William Coolidge Hall. According to Wendy Moxcey, recently appointed chairman of the Arts Council of Topsfield, applications for entry in the juried professional art show have already been mailed.

Original entries in four categories, painting, graphics, photography and bin work, will be considered upon payment of the appropriate entry fee(s). All art work must have been completed within the last three years and must be suitably named and priced for sale. Bin items should be matted and shrink wrapped. A percentage of the proceeds benefits the Arts Council. Professional judging and awards will be held prior to the opening of the fair. All work will remain on exhibit for the duration of the fair.

The deadline for the return of applications is Sept. 1. The receiving date for entries is Wednesday, Sept. 15, from 11 a.m. to 8 p.m. at William Coolidge Hall. Interested artists who have not been contacted may all Carlotta Miller for details or applications.

Mr. and Mrs. Salvatore Durante of Peabody announce the engagement of their daughter, Mary Ann, to Douglas Andrew Royal, son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Royal of North Andover.

The bride-to-be is a graduate of Our Lady of Nazareth Academy and Salem State College. She is employed as a claims coordinator at Marshall's in Woburn.

Her fiancé is a graduate of North Andover High School and is a computer science major at Merrimack College.

An Aug. 20, 1983, wedding is planned.

Obituaries

Walter Zekevicus

Walter Zekevicus, 88, 70 River Road, Andover, a piano finisher who worked for many celebrities, died July 27, at Lawrence General Hospital, following a long illness.

Born in Lithuania, he had resided in Cambridge for many years before moving to Andover. He was employed as a piano finisher for the Baldwin Piano Co., Boston for more than 40 years and in that capacity had worked for many famed pianists, including Liberace. He was a member of St. Francis Church, Lawrence.

The widower of Anna M. (Gecauskas) Zekevicus, he is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Paul J. (Genevieve) Alosky, with whom he resided; a granddaughter, Mrs. John F. (Ann Marie) McCoy of Windham, N.H.; one grandson, Paul J. Alosky of North Andover and two great-granddaughters.

A Mass was offered Monday in St. Francis Church, Lawrence. Burial was in St. Michael's Cemetery, Forest Hills.

Alfred J. Potvin

Alfred J. Potvin, 75, 464 River Road, Andover, died July 28, at Bon Secours Hospital following a short illness.

Born in Lawrence, he was a retired heavy equipment operator. He had been employed by the White Oaks Co., of Connecticut, the J.C. Higgins Co. and the Iacozzi Co.

He is survived by his wife, Angielena (Gosselin) Potvin of Andover; two daughters, Mrs. Herbert W. (Doris) Moore, Jr., of Methuen and Mrs. Jessica Saint Laurent of Andover; two sisters, Mrs. Alice Cleg-horn of Nashua, N.H. and Mrs. Melda Moreman of Andover; six grandchildren, six great grandchildren and several nieces and nephews.

A funeral service was held Friday at the Lundgren Funeral Home, 18 Elm St., Andover. Cremation was in Harmony Grove, Salem.

Memorial contributions may be made to the Shriner's Burn Institute, 51 Blossom St., Boston, 02114.

Frederick F. Calnan

Among the survivors of the late Frederick F. Calnan of Amesbury, is a brother, Richard E. Calnan of Andover.

Frederic P. Worthen

Frederic P. Worthen of Great Pond Road, North Andover, head of Worthen Industries and an explorer, died July 28 at Massachusetts General Hospital, Boston, after a long illness. He was 62.

In addition to his North Andover home, Mr. Worthen also resided in Naples, Florida and Georgeville, Quebec. Worthen Industries, which manufactures industrial adhesives, has plants in Lowell and Clinton, as well as in Ponce, Puerto Rico; Newman, Ga.; Richmond, Va.; and Nashua, N.H.

A native of Hartford, Conn., Mr. Worthen was the son of Dr. and Mrs. Thatcher W. Worthen. He attended Kingswood School and was a 1942 graduate of Dartmouth College. During World War II, he served in India as a United States Air Force captain. During the early forties, he explored parts of the Amazon Jungle, the first white man to see parts of the interior there.

He served as general manager of the Atlas Supply Division of Standard Oil in Chile and Argentina from 1946 until 1953, when he acquired Farnsworth, Inc., which he expanded into Worthen Industries.

He also served as a trustee of the Pike School in Andover, and as past president of the North Andover Country Club.

He leaves his wife, Helen (Farnsworth) Worthen; four sons, Peter T. of Andover, Frederic P. Jr. of Newman, Ga., Robert of Richmond, Va., and Davis S. of Seattle, Wash.; one daughter, Mrs. Frederick Berns of Peabody, Ka.; two sisters, Mrs. John Paine of Jericho, Vt., and Mrs. Robert Morton of Hartford, Conn.; and seven grandchildren.

A memorial service was held Monday afternoon at Christ Church, Andover. Burial was private. Funeral arrangements were under the direction of the Lundgren Funeral Home, 18 Elm St., Andover.

Memorial contributions may be made to the Hematology-Oncology Research Fund, Massachusetts General Hospital, Fruit Street, Boston, Mass., 02114.

Wando Viets

Wando Viets of 46 Oakland Ave., Methuen, a former Andover resident, died July 31 at Veteran's Administration Hospital, Manchester, N.H., after suffering from multiple sclerosis for several years. He was 62.

A Somerville native, Mr. Viets had lived in Andover and Salem, N.H., before he moved to Methuen two years ago. He worked as a packer for Victor Coffee Co., Boston, for 15 years until he retired in ill health in 1958. He served in the United States Army during World War II. He belonged to St. Monica's parish.

He leaves his wife, Kathleen T. (Morse) Viets; one daughter, Veralyn K. (Mrs. Bernard H.) Campbell of Salem; one grandson, Bernard W. of Salem; and a number of nieces and nephews.

Awards Presented At Pingree

Diplomas were presented at Pingree School in South Hamilton by Mrs. Richard D. Phippen of Wenham, president of the board of trustees, and Headmaster Charles P. Rimmer to 51 members of the graduating class at the 21st Commencement exercises.

Rev. J. Mark Dyer of Christ Church, Hamilton, gave the Invocation. The welcoming comments by Headmaster Rimmer were followed by a commencement address by John Richards II, dean of faculty at Phillips Academy, Andover, and a trustee of the Pingree School since 1971.

Richards began his talk by recognizing the work of Rimmer who has served as headmaster for the past eight years, and spoke of his "qualities of humaneness, patience and understanding" which have been so vital to the growth of Pingree.

The following awards and prizes were made:

Kathleen Battles, a freshman and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Battles of Andover, received Honorable Mention for Outstanding Achievement in Earth Science and made the Academic Honor Roll for the year.

Kathryn Eaton, a 1982 graduate of Pingree and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Eaton of Andover, made the Academic Honor Roll for the year and graduated with distinction.

Kirsten Ehrig, a freshman and the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Ulrich Ehrig of North Andover, received Honorable Mention for Outstanding Achievement in French.

Anne Higgins, a 1982 graduate of Pingree and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John G. Higgins of Andover, received Honorable Mention for Outstanding Achievement in Latin.

Susan Lacey, a sophomore and the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Stephen Lacey of Andover, received Honorable Mention for Outstanding Achievement in Biology and made the Academic Honor Roll for the year.

Rebecca Reynolds, a 1982 graduate of Pingree and the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Nicholas C. Reynolds of Andover, received the Robert Thruston Houk Thayer Jr. Award which is "given annually to a member of the school community who exemplifies those qualities of courage, infectious good humor, school spirit and concern for others for which Robby Thayer himself is remembered." Reynolds, who graduated with Distinction, also received Honorable Mention for Outstanding Achievement in Music and made the Academic Honor Roll for the year.

Susan Tierney, a freshman and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Tierney of North Andover, received Honorable Mention for Outstanding Achievement in History and also made the Academic Honor Roll for the year.

Elizabeth Wall, a junior and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Wall of North Andover, received Honorable Mention for Outstanding Achievement in Algebra and Trigonometry and in Spanish and made the Academic Honor Roll for the year.

Gone In A Day

Heavy equipment moved in Monday morning to remove a house and level the land at the corner of Stevens and Main Streets, to make way for a three-story office, retail building.

Retail, Office Center Will Replace Stevens St. House

By Sue Aucella Deacon

An 80-year-old house at the corner of Stevens and North Main streets was torn down this week, to be replaced by a 5,100-square foot, three-level retail and office center.

A. Leonard Seeche of Andover, new owner of the 14,000-square foot parcel, said Tuesday he expects construction to begin next week. Clayton Construction of Haverhill will build the brick-front, Colonial-style building, the owner said.

Premiums Reduced

More than three million persons will share in a reduction of $42 million in premium costs of Servicemen's Group Life Insurance (SGLI), according to an announcement by Administrator of Veterans Affairs Robert P. Nimmo. The reduced premiums are effective July 1.

The new monthly premium for maximum coverage of $35,000 is $4.06 as compared to the present rate of $5.25.

The program insures commissioned, warrant and enlisted members of the Army, Navy, Air Force, Marine Corps and Coast Guard and commissioned members of the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration and the Public Health Service. cadets and midshipmen at the four service academies and members of the ready reserves also are covered by SGLI.

Day Care Center Set To Open At Academy

By Sue Aucella Deacon

A Lawrence day care center, Community Day Care Center, Inc., will open a day care center for Andover and North Andover children this fall in Phillips Academy's Draper Hall.

While the new center will be open to the public "on a limited basis," first priority will be given to the children of Phillips Academy faculty and staff, according to Sheila Balboni, executive director of the Lawrence day care center.

To be called Andover Community Child Care, the day care center is scheduled to open in late September or early October, the director indicated.

With the selection of Draper Hall, the Lawrence center has ended a four-year search for an Andover site, Balboni said, citing a "perceived need" for an infant and toddler child care center to serve Andover and North Andover.

"We think Draper Hall will be an ideal site," the director said. "We are very excited about it." The center will occupy the library on the ground floor of the building and not the entire hall, she explained.

Priscilla Bellizia, president of Phillips Academy's Ladies Benevolent Society, said the academy offered the use of Draper Hall to the center because the academy had been seeking a way to provide child care for its faculty and staff.

"This has been a burgeoning year for babies," with many academy teachers becoming mothers for the first time, she explained. "This is really a very, very new thing for our campus."

The center will be run by the Lawrence organization, but the academy will be represented on its controlling board, she added.

Bellizia said she expects the majority of children at the center to come from outside the academy. However, the center has promised to make "every effort" to accommodate the teaching schedules of Phillips teachers. (For example, some mothers may need child care in the morning and late afternoon, but will want to take their children home during the middle of the day.)

According to Bellizia, the hall has already passed inspection by the state Office for Children, as well as local building, zoning and lead paint inspections. Some renovations will be needed before the center opens, mainly to adapt it for use as a child care center: diapering and sleeping areas will be added for infants, for example. There is a play area outside.

Center officials are still working on the details of the program they will offer in Andover, Balboni said. They are not yet certain how many children the center will be able to accommodate, or what age range it will serve.

The center has published advertisements and is conducting telephone surveys to find out what local parents' needs are, she explained. "We find that the needs are falling into two categories — for full-time day care, and for enrichment and socialization programs."

For that reason, the center will probably offer both "day care for the infant and toddler population, and a nursery school experience for young pre-schoolers," Balboni indicated.

"Our intention is not to be competitive with other programs, but to fill a need that exists in the town," she emphasized.

Kenya Coup Stalls Family Study Plans

By John P. Sawyer

They've both taken leaves of absence from their jobs, the house at 162 Lowell St. has been rented, and the family is ready to go.

But they may or may not end up in Kenya.

Right now, the Gershenbergs— Irving, Linnea and their children Aaron, Lisa and Sarah — are headed for London for two weeks. Their flight was to have left New York's J.F.K. Airport yesterday.

They will wait in London to see how events transpire in the east African nation of Kenya, where a coup attempt Sunday by rebel air force officers has reportedly been crushed, before the family moves to the capital city of Nairobi, where Irving and Linnea will work and the children will attend school.

Irving Gershenberg, a professor of economics at UMass/Boston, has been awarded a Fulbright Scholarship to teach economic development and planning at the University of Nairobi, where it is said army troops have surrounded the learning center, often considered by Kenyan President Daniel Arap Moi as a pocket of rebellion.

Linnea Gershenberg, early childhood education specialist for Andover Public Schools, hopes to serve as an educational consultant in Kenya and establish a testing service for pre-school children.

Aaron is to enroll at Nairobi University. Lisa, a recent Andover High graduate, may also take some courses. Sarah, a sophomore at Andover High last year, is to take her junior year in Nairobi.

This is not to be the Gershenbergs' first Africa trip. They lived two years in Kampala, Uganda (1969-71) and two years in Kenya (1974-76).

Crime Fighter Bus Ready For The Road

By Sue Aucella Deacon

The Andover Police Department has given a retired school bus new life and a new mission, reincarnating it as the department's Crime Prevention Exhibit vehicle.

Painted two shades of blue and completely remodeled inside, the bus will be used to bring public education programs out into the community and into the schools each month. Topics to be discussed will include crime prevention, alcohol abuse and drug abuse.

"The time has come to be innovative," Police Chief James Johnson said this week. "This will let us spend more time talking to more people. Everyone is very enthusiastic about it."

The bus was renovated at no cost to the town, the chief said. Last fall, Merrimack College donated the old bus, which had stood unused for a year. With all the work donated by volunteers, minimal funding was needed to pay for materials.

That money came from the town's Community Watch program, a fund started by an anonymous donor.

The result, after months of work: the old seats have been removed, and the interior is now fully carpeted and lined with handsome wood counters, cabinets and benches (soon to be cushioned). A table and two seats are built in at the front of the bus, which is equipped with a generous number of electrical outlets to allow slide shows and other displays.

The bus is designed to encourage visitors to walk through, pick up pamphlets and examine displays, and ask questions of Crime Prevention Officer Joseph Oullette, who will travel around town with the bus.

Volunteers came from both within and without the police department to work on the bus: Norman Rice of the police

Parking

A most important meeting with regard to downtown Andover is taking place at Memorial Hall Library this morning.

Local merchants and town officials are meeting with Secretary of Administration David Bartley impressing him with the need for $840,000 in state funding for downtown parking facilities.

Hopefully, Mr. Bartley will leave Andover with the firm belief that the granting of such funding will insure a healthy business-commercial area for this community for years to come.

Andover is currently in the process of examining the entire downtown area, considering expansion of the business section as part of updating the master plan. Also, there is a plan underway to further develop municipal facilities, such as the library and possible conversion of the Town House to office or business use, once East Junior High is available for town offices.

Coupled with these plans which utilize, rather than destruct good and historic structures in the heart of the community, is the need to provide a most essential service to Andover's downtown merchants, many of whom have put up with the absence of adequate parking facilities for shoppers for many years.

Andover has had a downtown business area to be proud of for many years, based primarily on the fact that its merchants have a caring attitude about their community.

Townpeople and visitors to Andover's central business district have enjoyed the convenience of shopping there, as well as visits to professional persons whose offices are within the same area.

For years, however, these people have tolerated the one problem which has been worked upon but never resolved--- parking. Today the opportunity presents itself to remedy that problem.

With correction of Elm Square difficulties on the horizon--- construction is to begin this summer--- the provisions for parking facilities will provide Downtown Andover with an even brighter hue for the future.

We anticipate Mr. Bartley would agree.

They Deserve A Playground

As is often characteristic in Andover, what may seem to be a rather simple request has turned into controversy.

Some parents in the West Andover area recently requested that the town provide a playground area for their youngsters on land acquired for a school site several years ago but never utilized for that purpose.

It seemed like a reasonable request. A play area for youngsters in the area, with swings, seesaws, slides and the usual harmless paraphernalia and maybe a year from now a supervised program as is the case with other neighborhood playgrounds in Andover.

There have been objections raised to the recreation area on town-owned land.

Frankly, the people in the West Andover area would seem to be entitled to the same privileges as others in the community when it comes to recreational opportunities.

Since these residents, regardless of the price-tags on their property, are entitled to the same privileges as taxpayers in all other areas of the town who have such opportunities, it just seems appropriate that town officials and neighbors get together and work out any differences which may be hindering a positive attitude toward such a simple compliance with a reasonable request.

Personal Concerns

To The Editor Of The TOWNSMAN:

As an abutter to the proposed West Andover playground, I want to express my personal concerns with recent reports in your newspaper.

The repetitive emphasis given to an unsigned letter of protest is detracting from the facts:

1. People who live miles away (Rutgers Road, Patridge Hill, and would believe Allston, MA?) want to put a playground in my front yard, not theirs.

2. These people want town-supplied counselors at the site so they can drive up, drop the kids and go off for tennis.

3. The School Committee, my elected officials, give away the land without even telling me a playground was under consideration.

If these people want swings and slides close by, let them use their own one-acre lots in their own neighborhoods. Let them hire a babysitter with their money, not with Andover taxes.

If they want extra playing fields, let them help to complete those already laid out at the West Andover land fill.

Then let our kids and other Andover kids continue to enjoy these woodlands for hiking or skiing or just for doing kid things.

His Plans Were Made

To The Editor Of The TOWNSMAN:

The Townsman's editorial of July 29, 1982, "Of Primary Concern," regarding the campaign to elect a successor to Representative Gerald Cohen, is a welcome contribution to the campaign. However, there is one point in the otherwise excellent editorial which requires clarification.

The editorial states that the Primary has "... altered the plans of at least ten people who might ordinarily have been off enjoying the summer vacation season. ..." The article should have referred to nine people since my committee was organized on Feb. 2, 1982, one month before Representative Cohen announced his retirement. The other candidates declared themselves after his announcement. Thank you for the opportunity to clarify the record.

For Those Of Us Who Are Older

By Janet D. Lake

Be sure to watch for the new issue of The Haven Newsletter for in it you will find details for a bunch of new trips planned for the fall. They are planning a trip to Mystic, Conn., a delightful interlude in Americana, an old fashioned seaport. And then there is the Halloween trip to Salem, Mass., and the Witch House, among other fascinations of the time. An old fashioned Thanksgiving at Plymouth is scheduled for Nov. 10. Details will be found in these columns in the weeks to come, as well as in the newsletter. Watch for them and in the meantime, circle the dates on your calendar.

It is not too soon to sign up for the Fall Foliage trip Oct. 13! This trip usually fills up fast, so don't delay! This year they are to travel to the Green Mountains of southern Vermont, luncheon at a countryside inn, visit to the Honey Bee Museum and the Nelson Wildlife Museum with its spectacular 100-mile view and gift shopping at a Vermont cheese house—and all for only $20! Get in on this one in a hurry. It is sure to fill quickly.

The next mini-clinic will be held Aug. 10 at Chestnut Court.

What with the September primaries getting close, all the candidates for the office of State Representative have been invited to the Haven the morning of Aug. 24 at 10 a.m. Here's your chance to narrow down your choices—perhaps to even decide on the final choice. You'll get to hear the candidates and have a chance to question them. Remember, Tuesday, Aug. 24, at the senior center at 10 o'clock.

Remember to sign up for the Eastern States Exposition Sept. 19. The $10 fee covers transportation and admission to this annual event in West Springfield. You are on your own for lunch, but there are many places you can buy your lunch, or you could take advantage of their lovely picnic grounds. You'll see all kinds of craft exhibits, food competitions (jellies, pickles, etc.) as well as animal and agriculturally related events. There will be a side show and marching bands, a rodeo and much, much more to add to the excitement of the day. Sign up at the senior center now!

WEEKLY SPECIAL

Major naval bases vulnerable, secret Pentagon report warnsBy JACK ANDERSON and JOE SPEAR

WASHINGTON — There is disturbing news concerning major naval bases in the United States: They may be vulnerable to attack by enemy terrorists.

A secret report completed last month warns that the Navy's fighters and bombers are extremely vulnerable to terrorists or saboteurs. The report mentions four naval air bases as particularly defenseless. They are the ones in Norfolk, Va., Jacksonville, Fla., San Diego and Seattle. The Norfolk station is regarded as the most vulnerable.

The situation is so bad that the Pentagon investigators were even able to pinpoint the damage that could be done. The secret report says that more than a billion dollars' worth of naval aircraft could be destroyed in just one hour by a team of no more than five saboteurs.

One reason for this appalling weakness in the security of naval bases is that they're located in port cities that don't have much space for protective measures.

But the investigators also found that the Navy hasn't done much to tighten security at the bases. There are guards at all of them, of course, but the investigators warned that the guards could easily be overpowered by terrorists.

Overall, the Pentagon investigation concluded that from a third to a half of the Navy's airpower is vulnerable to sabotage.

What's worse, the investigators warned that it's highly possible foreign spies have already penetrated the Navy bases. They may have stolen top-secret radar equipment. In short, they may know exactly how easy it would be to carry out a sneak attack on the Navy air bases.

The Navy investigators are particularly concerned, believe it or not, over Iranian terrorists. Iran is known to be furious at the recent U.S. announcement of naval maneuvers in the Middle East. The Iranians may try to retaliate by knocking out a Navy air base or two.

DIPLOMATIC COVER: As Israeli planes and artillery zero in on Palestine Liberation Organization targets in West Beirut, there is a possibility that foreign embassies will be hit.

This, of course, would be an acute embarrassment to the Israelis. At least one Israeli shell has already damaged the evacuated Soviet Embassy, and the Russians let Israel know they were displeased.

Other important foreign embassies in the besieged city include those of the United States and the Vatican. Israel is already in deep trouble over the Lebanon invasion without enraging any more Americans or millions of Catholics around the world.

The trouble is that the PLO reportedly puts its artillery as close as possible to these embassies. There's a sound military reason for this: Embassy compounds often have large, open courtyards that are ideal for rocket launchers and other weapons.

Perhaps more important, though, is the pressure it puts on the Israelis when they respond to the PLO fire. They don't want to hit the Soviet, American or Vatican embassies, but they obviously can't give the PLO gunners "diplomatic immunity."

Like any competent military force, the PLO plays a game of musical chairs with its rocket launchers and artillery. After each barrage, they pack up the weapons and move them to a new location. This has a double effect: It not only saves their weapons, but it means the Israelis risk antagonizing a foreign power for nothing by shelling a deserted embassy.

In a curious development, Pentagon sources tell us the PLO has been hiding weapons in secret locations throughout West Beirut. Presumably, this ensures that they'll have something to fight with if they ever come back. But the Israelis have already agreed to let the PLO keep its small arms when it leaves. And anything bigger — like a tank or a rocket launcher — would be pretty hard to hide in somebody's cellar.

HEADLINES AND FOOTNOTES: What is the most poorly managed nation in the world? Several of our State Department sources have nominated Guyana, on the northern coast of South America. Prime Minister Forbes Burnham, our sources say, does no planning for the future. "He literally gets up in the morning and decides what to do that day," said one source.

— Libyan strongman Muammar Qaddafi recently hosted a conference in Tripoli which was attended by radicals from the Dominican Republic, St. Lucia, Barbados and Grenada. U.S. analysts are convinced that Qaddafi is trying to stir up trouble in the Caribbean.

— A federal judge has ruled that the Social Security Administration can review confidential tax records to weed out cheaters in some benefit programs. But the beneficiaries may have the last laugh. Our sources say that the Social Security forms used to obtain permission to get into tax files do not comply with federal paperwork laws. Technically, they are not legal.

Kitchen Design

David A. Clement, designer

More and more people are choosing wallpaper over paint for a wall covering. Although wall paper may cost more initially, there are some long-term advantages with its use. Wallpaper stands up to abuse, can camouflage irregularities and create a mood in a way that paint cannot. Dark colors close a room in a warm embrace while light colors open the room. Irregularities can be concealed with small, non-directional patterns. Do not hesitate to extend wallpaper to encompass the ceiling. It can provide a solid, overall effect, especially in bathrooms and kitchens.

Here at WINDSOR KITCHENS we can produce the effect you want for your kitchen or bath. Call us at 372-3444 or visit 1181 Boston Road in Ward Hill. Our hours are Mon.-Thurs. 9-5:30; Fri. till 8; Sat. till 5; evens. by appt. We believe ventilation, lighting, accessories are all to be considered in designing your space. We go even further by coordinating these aspects as well as the practical functions such as plumbing and electrical.

HANDY HINT

Consider using the same wallpaper design, but in reverse colors, to coordinate adjoining rooms.

Off To A Good Start

The Andover Hockey Shop high school soccer team is off to a fast start this season, posting a 7-0 record thus far. Coach Jim DiClemente notes that while Andover has dominated the league, tough games remain against Wakefield. The coach feels this year's team is the strongest he has coached in the past five summers. Pictured are (left to right) front row: Dan Boland, Greg Batten, Craig Silva, Steve Carbone, Dan Kimball, Hai Dang, David Collins, Paul Finnegan and Jim Denoncourt; back row: Paul Hevehan, Assistant Coach Bill Novelline, David Keene, Nicky Bates, Kurt Oliver, David Bates, Todd Lockwood, John Hevehan, Chris Egan, Danny Poore, Tom Maginnis, Coach Jim DiClemente.

Ruthers Go For Title

By Rick Harrison

Staunch pitching performances from ace righthanders Mark Grams, Bill Weidman and Billy Lane highlighted another outstanding week for the Andover Gold Babe Ruth baseball team, which swept to three more victories and moved within one of its second straight Greater-Lawrence League playoff championship.

Gold, which recently captured its second consecutive regular season title and its third in five years, opened the double-elimination round robin playoffs with a 8-2 victory over Andover Blue and a 6-0 triumph over North Andover.

Later in the week AG traveled to Lowell for a non-league game against the Lowell Shedd All-Stars, coming away with an 8-1 win.

Bill Weidman remained undefeated (6-0 with two saves) on the mound, firing a five-hitter and striking out seven in the conquest of Andover Blue.

The final score is somewhat deceptive, however, because Gold trailed 2-0 before erupting for eight runs in the top of the seventh.

Grams hiked his record to 8-1 in the league and 8-2 overall with a superb two-hit shutout against North Andover, which was subsequently eliminated from post-season play following a 10-8 loss to Blue.

Lane improved his impressive overall record to 7-1 as he shackled Lowell Shedd, with late-inning relief from Gold alumnus Scott Zimmerman.

Lane retired the first 11 batters he faced and had a no-hitter through four and one-third innings. Zimmerman worked the final two and two-thirds, striking out four, and the pair combined for a two-hitter.

Andover Gold is now 23-3 overall this year, after going 26-3 last summer, and over a three-year period the club has posted a 63-8 record.

The two playoff victories gave Gold an automatic double bye into the championship round, and it was scheduled to face the winner of the Andover Blue vs. South Lawrence West semifinal contest last night.

If Gold played and won last night it is the playoff titlist, but a Gold loss would force a winner-take-all championship final tomorrow.

Andover Gold

row night.

Andover Gold, 8-2

Andover Blue righthander John Nuzzo frustrated Andover Gold for six innings, entering the seventh riding a two-hit shutout and a 2-0 lead.

However, as it has done numerous times this summer, Gold came through with a clutch rally to pull out the victory.

This game marked the sixth time AG has come from behind for a win, and it was the second time Gold pulled one out in the final inning (earlier 5-4 triumph over North Andover).

Thirteen batters went to the plate for Gold, and Kraig Burzlaff led off the uprising by smashing a single off Nuzzo's leg.

John Leahy followed with a sharp single, Mark Doherty beat out a bunt for the tenth time this season to load the bases, and 13-year-old Chris Colsia tied the contest by spanking a two-run single to leftfield.

After Bill Weidman sacrificed Doherty and Colsia into scoring position, a wild pitch rescued Doherty with what proved to be the winning run.

Walks to Kevin Rourke and Mark Grams re-loaded the bases, setting the stage for consecutive two-run singles by Scott Wilkins and Billy Lane.

Burzlaff laced his second hit of the inning to chase home the final run, and Doherty also smacked his second hit of the inning before reliever Pat Plaehn retired Colsia on a crisp grounder to third ending the rally.

Gold never really threatened prior to that, and the only other hits were back-to-back leadoff singles in the fourth by Wilkins and Lane.

Blue's only major threat against hard-throwing righthander Bill Weidman came in the bottom of the third, when it grabbed a 2-0 lead.

Plaehn drilled a leadoff single to centerfield and stole second. Rob Carpentier drew a one-out walk, and John Duffy followed with an RBI double. Mike Surette's infield grounder was then misplayed as Carpentier scored the second run.

Weidman settled down thereafter and allowed only two more baserunners, striking out seven and walking two.

Burzlaff, Doherty, Lane and Wilkins lashed two hits apiece for AG, while Bob Rikeman paced Blue with 2-for-3.

Burzlaff at second base and Lane at catcher were defensive standouts for the winners.

Rikeman played well behind the plate for Andover Blue.

Andover Gold, 6-0

Four of the six Gold runs were unearned as North Andover uncharacteristically made five errors, but it wouldn't have mattered anyway because Mark Grams was practically untouchable.

Once again mixing a sharp-breaking curve with a hopping fastball, Grams tossed a two-hit shutout while whiffing eight and walking only three.

He was in trouble only once, as NA loaded the bases in the bottom of the seventh at Grogan's Field and Grams didn't allow a hit after the second.

The shutout was the third of the season for Grams, who has permitted only three earned runs in his last 42 innings and struck out 48 batters over that same stretch.

Gold collected the only two runs it would need in the top of the first, when Grams and Scott Wilkins reached on consecutive infield errors and then scored on singles by Kraig Burzlaff and Mark Doherty.

North Andover gave Gold two more runs in the third. John Leahy and Doherty reached on errors, Chris Colsia's grounder erased Leahy, and then a poor throw to first base on Bill Weidman's grounder enabled two runs to cross.

Gold left runners stranded at second and third in the sixth, with Billy Lane's single to leftfield hit so hard that Grams could not score.

The final two runs came in the seventh when Leahy singled, Doherty laid down his 11th bunt single of the season, and 13-year-old Earl Abdoo rescued both with a two-strike single to rightfield.

North Andover loaded the bases in the last of the seventh when Tom Murtaugh drew a one-out walk. Chris Abel reached on an error and Mike Clancy was hit by a pitch with two down.

However, Grams ended the game with a flourish by whiffing Paul Bernardin.

Doherty and Lane led the nine-hit attack on losing hurler Chris Strobel with 2-for-4 efforts.

Second baseman Kraig Burzlaff was the defensive star of the game, handling seven chances flawlessly and starting Gold's ninth and 10th doubleplays of the season.

The lone NA hits, both solid shots to centerfield, were a first inning single by Ernie Burton and a second inning single by Murtaugh. Burton was subsequently cut down trying to steal by catcher Lane, and Murtaugh was wiped out on the first of the two doubleplays.

This marked the fifth straight Gold triumph over North Andover this year.

Plaehn Paces Blue Team

The Andover Blue Babe Ruth team surprised the highly regarded South Lawrence West team in playoff action last Wednesday evening at the Andover High School field.

Pat Plaehn, a hard luck loser in many games during the regular season, spun a masterful three-hit shutout. Plaehn completely dominated the heavy hitting West team from the start, finally giving way to Mike Surette in the seventh with Andover comfortably in the lead.

The Blue team started the scoring early when lead off man John Duffy walked. John Nuzzo doubled him to third. Bob Rikeman then rescued Duffy with a sharp single for a quick one nothing lead. In the third Nuzzo got the Blue going again with a lead-off single.

After a wild pitch, Rikeman contributed his second hit, scoring Nuzzo. Robbie DeTroia's sacrifice moved the runner into scoring position and gave Plaehn a chance to help his own cause. He wasted no time in lining an RBI single for a three-run lead.

The sixth inning saw the Blue put the contest out of reach. Nick Lembo and Duffy drew walks to start the inning. Surette's infield hit loaded the bases. Jeff Penner then singled scoring one and leaving the bases loaded. They didn't remain full for long as Nuzzo cracked a triple (his fourth hit of the game) to put Andover ahead 7-0.

Andover Blue raised their record to 1-1 in the double elimination playoffs, while South Lawrence West's record dropped to an identical 1-1.

Andover Blue vs. No. Andover

The Andover Blue Babe Ruth team continued their outstanding play in the playoff against North Andover with a convincing 10-8 come from behind victory.

After jumping out to a one-run lead in the second on the strength of an RBI single by Robbie DeTroia, Andover surrendered eight runs to the heavy-hitting North Andover team in the third inning. However, the Blue team was not willing to let their season end and with Robbie Carpentier coming on in relief to pitch three hit, shutout ball over the final four innings, Andover fought back.

In their third the Blue took advantage of walks to carpentier and DeTroia along with two North Andover errors and an RBI single by Jeff Penner to collect four runs.

CHIROPRACTIC FOR BETTER HEALTH

JAMES J. PECK, D.C.

CHIROPRACTOR

Chiropractic and Knee Problems

Because the knee is entrusted with supporting the weight of the body while maintaining a great range of motion, it is a very complex, well designed joint. It consists of four bones, eleven ligaments, two cartilage, and thirteen bursae. The complex movements this joint is subjected to and the constant strain of weight bearing make the knee vulnerable to injury.

The complexity of the movements and the structure however makes diagnosis and correction of problems difficult, demanding a great understanding of the biomechanics involved. To further complicate this, structural imbalances in the feet, the opposite knee, or elsewhere can produce discomfort in a healthy knee.

Therefore, if you suffer from a knee problem, it is important to have the knee and the entire body examined thoroughly, oftentimes chiropractic care can correct knee problems and the development of chondromalacia (erosion of the knee-cap), arthritis, or bursitis.

Call to arrange for a chiropractic consultation and examination.

Andover Gold, 8-1

The Lowell Shedd All-Stars, who are in the midst of the annual Lowell City Youth Baseball Tournament which they won last year, simply couldn't solve the serves of Billy Lane and Scott Zimmerman.

Lane mowed down the first 11 batters without letting a ball out of the infield, and when two walks and an error got him in fifth-inning trouble Zimmerman was just the medicine needed.

Blue Team

They then managed three more in the fifth to tie the game. With Penner aboard via another North Andover miscue, Bobby Rikeman shot a double up the gap in left center for one run. DeTroia promptly plated him with a single. Pat Plaehn followed with a two bagger moving DeTroia to third. A wild pitch allowed the tying run to score moments later.

Andover completed its incredible comeback in the sixth. Penner doubled leading off and then promptly stole third. The hot hitting John Nuzzo delivered another key hit scoring the go-ahead run. Andover managed an insurance run shortly after as Rikeman crunched a long triple over the right fielder's head.

While Carpentier was outstanding in relief, the win could not have been accomplished without some truly amazing defensive plays by centerfielder John Duffy.

Zimmerman was recruited due to a lack of available Gold players, and it marked his first pitching assignment since last summer when he did some hurling in tournaments and on the Canadian trip with Gold.

AG notched one run in the top of the first when Mark Grams singled to left, Zimmerman walked, Lane beat out a bunt single and Grams raced across on a wild pitch.

The score jumped to 4-0 in the second after Chris Colsia walked. Scott Wilkins walked, Grams lashed a long two-run triple to rightfield and then once again trotted home on a wild pitch.

Gold had a mild threat in the third when Kraig Burzlaff singled to rightfield and stole second, but he was doubled up on John Leahy's sharp line drive picked off nicely by Lowell shortstop Kevin Cahill.

In the fourth Colsia hammered a ong double to leftfield and Grams was walked intentionally, but that threat went by the boards as well.

In the fifth Lane drilled a double down the leftfield line, but he was caught in a run-down and tagged out when Burzlaff grounded to third. Burzlaff then stole second and scored easily on Leahy's single to right-field.

Phil Renaud of Lowell finally broke up Lane's no-hit bid with a fifth inning single, after which a walk and error loaded the bases.

Zimmerman came on at this point to escape the jam, fanning Sean Koza and retiring Dave Robertson on a check-swing tapper to the mound.

The only other Lowell Shedd safety was a two-out double to center in the sixth by John Manoney, but he was nailed at third trying to stretch the hit to a triple.

Cycle Race

Four hundred U.S. Federation cyclists will test their riding abilities in a race on Memorial Drive in Cambridge on Saturday, Aug. 14, from 8:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. Some of New England's best riders, including Jeff Slack, Chuck Clark, Rob Butler, Matt Anderson and nationally-ranked Rudy Soroka and Tony Chastain, are expected to compete.

Greater Boston's only major cycling event is being sponsored by the Bay State Games Committee as part of Sportsfest '82. The Northeast Bicycle Club is organizing the race in cooperation with the Metropolitan District Commission and Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

The race will start and finish in front of M.I.T.'s Walker Memorial Library and will reach west to Vassar Street and east to Wadsworth Street. Registration for riders will open at 7 a.m.

Tall Ship

The Custom House Maritime Museum is sponsoring a dockside reception to welcome the tall ship, Pride of Baltimore, on its Newburyport visit, Monday, Aug. 16, from 6 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. Those attending the wine and cheese reception will have the opportunity to see the Pride and go on board. The Custom House Maritime Museum will also be open to ticketholders who will have the opportunity of seeing two special exhibits. "Waterfowl of the Merrimack," a collection of hunting decoys, and "Building the Sailing Dory."

The Pride of Baltimore is a recreation of an 1812 Baltimore Clipper Schooner, the first Baltimore Clipper to set sail in 100 years and the only existing example of such a vessel.

Kenya

But Irving is not sure they'll be making it back to Kenya this time.

He has been offered other countries where he could teach, and he may have to. But he plans to wait for a while in London to see if the situation in Nairobi lets up. He may even go to Kenya himself before bringing his family along, if events allow that.

But Gershenberg said he is wary of sniper fire and further bloodshed in Nairobi as the government, as what often happens after a coup attempt, remains concerned about rebellion. He said he has learned all air traffic to Nairobi has been diverted to Saudi Arabia.

Gershenberg said he has also learned through his sources that after the Kenyan government recently decided to officially and constitutionally create a one-party state (He said it has been that way unofficially), arrests have been made, a newspaper editor was fired for a critical article, teachers were put into detention for allegedly teaching Marxist thoughts and a list of political figures to be rounded up may have been created.

He said he is uncertain of the reasons for these happenings, noting that the Kenyan economy had actually started to strengthen itself, so that economics might not be putting the clamps on, so to speak.

The attempted coup Sunday led to heavy fighting and death in Nairobi and its suburbs. Neighborhoods were looted. A 6 p.m. to 7 a.m. curfew was imposed. The military uprising focused on Nairobi's International Airport, a government radio station and the post office.

Ithaca

Patricia Pelc was awarded a Bachelor of Science degree in Physical Therapy from Ithaca College at Commencement exercises held on May 16.

As an undergraduate, she was captain of the varsity swim team and established school records in swimming competition.

During the summer, she will serve her internship in physical therapy at Newington Children's Hospital in Newington, CT, and at Roswell Park Memorial Institute in Buffalo, N.Y.

A 1978 graduate of Andover High School, Pelc is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Pelc.

Nuclear Question On Ballot

The Massachusetts Nuclear Referendum Campaign delivered 19,839 certified voter signatures to Secretary of State Michael Joseph Connolly, making it official that a binding initiative regulating new nuclear facilities will appear on the November 2 ballot.

The proposed law would require certain environmental and economic safeguards and statewide voter approval before any low-level radioactive waste dump or new nuclear power plants can be constructed in Massachusetts. In addition, any compact between Massachusetts and other states to bring out-of-state nuclear waste into Massachusetts would have to be approved by the voters. The proposal exempts those small amounts of wastes produced from medicine or research sources from its restrictions.

In 1600 Will Kempe, a famous clown, danced the 100 miles from London to Norwich. It took nine days.

Blood Pressure Screenings

Free blood pressure screenings will be offered at the Regional Health Center, 76 Treble Cove Road, Billerica, on Thursday, Aug. 5, from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m.

Although there is no charge for this service, pre-registration is requested.

High blood pressure is a condition which increases the work of the heart and is the single most important risk factor for heart attack and stroke. According to the American Heart Association, heart disease and stroke will cause half of the deaths this year.

Depending on the severity of the case, high blood pressure can be controlled in a variety of ways—medication, diet, weight control and exercise.

maintenance department stripped the old seats and did mechanical work; Ron Abraham of Elm Street Automotive did mechanical work and painted the exterior; Richard Trask of Andover House of Carpets donated the carpeting; Officer William Canane did all the electrical work; and Ernest Gaudet build the cabinetry, benches and counters, donating hours of his spare time during the winter and spring months.

A number of town departments are already interested in using the bus, Chief Johnson said, and in fact it will make its public debut on Saturday, Aug. 14, in front of Town Hall, where Town Clerk Elden Salter will use it for voter registration.

Later this month, Lawrence General Hospital will use the bus as part of an alcohol awareness program at the Lawrence Municipal Airport.

And in future months, it will be stationed at two locations on two Saturdays each month, with a different topic each month. The bus will also visit the schools during the first two weeks of each month, and eventually it may travel to major industries in the area as well, the chief indicated.

Officer Oullette said that with the help of the bus, he will be able to bring his displays of locks and alarms systems to more neighborhoods to explain the "Neighborhood Watch" concept of crime prevention, as well as spend more time in the schools.

Chief Johnson added that he hopes the bus will help spread the message that "whether it be crime or vandalism, it is a community problem — not just a police problem."

Nicaragua Display

"Nicaragua—Our Sisters in Struggle," a photo-journal display by author/photographer Margaret Randall, is being shown at the Lillian Immig Gallery, Emmanuel College, Boston, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. through August 31.

Randall, currently working in Nicaragua as a journalist, is the author of several books on Cuba and Nicaragua including "Women in Cuba: Twenty Years Later."

Day Care

Andover Community Child Care plans to have its program fully developed and begin registration by mid-August, the director said.

Draper Hall was in the news last year, when Andover officials planned to lease it to house Andover school administration offices temporarily after the Stowe School was razed.

That plan became unnecessary, however, when the Shawsheen School was closed, and public school offices were moved into that school building last summer.

Phillips officials will be "happy to have the building in use again," Bellizia noted. Except for a period when it was used as a dining room while the academy dining commons was undergoing renovations, the hall has been vacant for a year.

$750 worth of extras for $250:

Now all of our precise automotive technology can be yours for less than you ever dreamed. Because to the art of engineering, Audi has just added the art of boosting sticker value. If you buy an Audi 4000S sports sedan with automatic transmission, tachometer, dual electrically adjustable outside mirrors, and a 4-spoke sports steering wheel, you will get that $750 worth of extras for only $250.*

All those extras are fine. But it's the car they go on that makes their value so special. Precision engineering of the highest order, the handling and roadability of front-wheel drive, and a combination of performance and luxury undreamed of in a sports sedan. Perhaps you think we've become carried away. Ask your Porsche Audi dealer for a test drive in the Audi 4000S and we'll see who gets carried away!

Animal Care

A farm animal is not something you can just "put in the backyard and expect to grow," says University of Massachusetts cooperative extension service livestock specialist Joseph Tritschler.

Citing the increase in ownership of goats, sheep and pigs in New England on the small-scale farms, Tritschler says that people should make sure they "know what they're getting into" before buying animals.

According to Tritschler, space is a primary restriction for most home owners wishing to raise animals. Under grazing conditions, one to three sheep will need approximately one acre of open space.

In the summer, a cover to get out of the rain may be sufficient as shelter. In the winter, a windbreak to reduce the wind-chill factor is all mature animals need.

Proper sanitation, including waste disposal, is very important when raising animals in confinement, says Tritschler. Waste should be removed and deposited away from animals or used for fertilizer.

Forage is the basis of good feeds for sheep and goats, he says, and should always be supplemented with trace mineralized salt. At times the animals may also require supplemental grain, vitamins (A and D) and macrominerals, such as phosphorus and calcium, depending on quality of forage they are eating and their physical stage.

Fencing for pigs should be sturdy and close to the ground, to discourage the animal from burrowing out. Fencing for sheep should be designed to keep predators, especially dogs, out.

Another important concern for animal owners is medical care and the prevention of sickness. "People should talk with a veterinarian before buying animals," says Tritschler. Good communication with the veterinarian can help you avoid problems. Prevention of animal stress, particularly in young animals, can play a very important role in keeping down disease and feeding costs, says

Tritschler. Some key factors contributing to animal stress are an improper environmental temperature, unsanitary and dusty housing, internal and external parasites, overcrowding, an unbalanced diet, sudden dietary change and a lack of fresh clean water.

For more information, contact Joseph Tritschler at the University of Massachusetts Cooperative Extension Service, Amherst.

Library Appointments

Ruth Pyne

Anne O'Brien

Anne O'Brien, former head of circulation, has been named assistant director of Memorial Hall Library, Andover, replacing Ruth Hooten, who recently resigned.

Mrs. O'Brien, a member of the library staff for the past three years, is a graduate of Brown University with a Masters in Library Media from Georgia State University and a Masters in Library Science from University of Rhode Island. She and her family live at 7 Serenity Lane, Andover.

Replacing Mrs. O'Brien as head of circulation is Ruth Pyne of Manchester, N.H. A graduate of University of Illinois with a Masters in Library Science from University of Iowa, she has previously worked at Iowa City Public Library as assistant head of circulation and most recently, at the Kelley Library, Salem, N.H., as head of reference. Her expertise, gained at the Iowa City Library, in the operation of a computerized library system will assist Memorial Hall Library when its circulation system goes on-line this fall. A native of Chicago, Ms. Pyne and her 12-year-old daughter moved to New England from the Midwest about a year ago. Another move closer to Andover is expected.

A Big Week For Children

The busy summer of activities in the Children's Room at Memorial Hall Library is soon to end with a week of special programs. The final program for "Make it on Mondays" on Aug. 9 will be a combination of stories followed by refreshments featuring things that kings and queens might have tasted in the Middle Ages. Children ages 6-12 are invited at 2 p.m. to try out some medieval recipes and stories. The final "Story Go Round" for preschoolers will be held Tuesday, Aug. 10, at 10 a.m. and on Thursday, Aug. 12, at 3 p.m. bedtime stories for 3 1/2-5 years old will be presented at a farewell "Pajama Party." Morning and evening story hours at the library will resume in October.

On Wednesday afternoon, Aug. 11, the library will sponsor a special treat for children 6-12 as the Pot Pourri Wagon from the University of New Hampshire Theater Department arrives with an hour of entertainment featuring vignettes, songs, and comedy with an emphasis on audience participation. Free tickets may be picked up by parents beginning Monday, Aug. 9, and remaining tickets will be available after 1:30 p.m. on the day of the program.

Finally, all children who participated so enthusiastically in the reading program "Build the Castle of Your Dreams" by completing one or more castle charts are invited to celebrate with us on Friday, Aug. 13, at a party from 2 p.m. to 3 p.m. Certificates will be awarded, a short film shown and refreshments served.

GOP Honors Patracone

The Executive Committee of the National Republican Congressional Committee has unanimously awarded Louis D. Patracone with an official Certificate of Recognition for his "invaluable support" in helping the Committee to elect Republicans to the United States Congress.

The award was called a "tribute to the dedication" Patracone has to the Party and "the sacrifices" he has made to support candidates. His financial support was said to be playing an important role in the Committee's efforts to win more Republicans to the House of Representatives in 1982.

In earning the award, Patracone has "earned the admiration and gratitude" of the Committee.

Larry's Service —

Wheel Alignment Specialists

Summer time is vacation time. If you're traveling by car this summer, plan to stop in at Larry's Service, 665 Haverhill St., Lawrence, for a tune-up before that much-needed vacation.

Avoid costly and aggravating delays in your vacation schedule, and give your car a break, too. Having provided excellent automotive repair work for thirty-two years, Larry's Service, an Amoco Station, can give your car the tender loving care it needs to ensure a safe, delay-free trip.

Emile Levasseur Jr., owner of Larry's Service, along with Louis Janowski and Emile Levasseur do almost any job you need done to keep your vehicle dependable. They do tune-ups on all makes and models, exhaust system work, brake work, air-conditioning work, and any minor repair work. Wheel alignment, which is especially critical for good travel mileage, is Larry's specialty.

When wheels are out of alignment, turning becomes difficult and tires wear out rapidly. A factory-trained specialist at Larry's Service uses the John Bean Acraliner to make the necessary adjustments to align your vehicle perfectly. Optical measurements are made on front and rear wheels with a light beam from two wheel-mounted precision projectors. Toe-in and toe-out as well as caster and camber are measured by the projected light beam on a screen. The necessary adjustments are then made for perfect alignment. Be wise. Make use of the mileage your tires offer and avoid early tire replacement. Have your wheels aligned at least once a year by the specialist at Larry's Service. Before setting out on that long-awaited vacation, make an appointment for wheel alignment or any minor repair work Monday thru Friday, 7 a.m. to 5 p.m., or Saturday until noon. Call Larry's Service, 687-9447, for friendly, efficient service and expert repair work and maintenance. And have a safe, fun trip!

A tire's ability to hold the road decreases as the tire's tread wears down. When the depth of a tire's groove is one-sixteenth of an inch or less, lateral wear bars appear across the grain of the tread.

A tire that reaches this point is potentially hazardous, particularly on wet pavement, and should be replaced.

according to Bill Woehrlie, manager of industry standards for Uniroyal Tire Company.

OVER — IMPROVING

How much money should you put into improving your home? As much as you can afford if you are doing it for your own enjoyment and don't plan to move for a long time. However, if you plan to make major improvements in order to get a better price when you sell — it is economically unwise. Seldom do such improvements bring more than fifty cents on the dollar spent to make them. And all bets are off if you overvalue your house in relation to other houses in the neighborhood. An old real estate axiom says, in effect, that nobody will spend $40,000 for a house in a $30,000 neighborhood. That's virtually true regardless of how large or good a house it may be.

The addition of an extra bedroom, in-ground swimming pool or central air conditioning, will increase the value of your home. But only at a fraction of the cost. About the only money you should spend on a house to sell it at a higher price is for repairs that are obviously needed to put your best foot forward.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at THE HOWE AGENCY, 4 PUNCHARD AVE., Andover. Phone: 475-5100. We're here to help.

12,440 in 1950 to 26,370 in 1980, and the "commercial area has really shrunk," according to the town manager, because buildings have been torn down to create room for parking. Other than spaces created when the old fire station was razed, the parking area in town has not been increased, he says.

Mahony says local merchants have asked for more parking for their patrons, and he says everyone in town deserves the additional parking. The downtown area is 500 spaces short, according to Mahony, so that the 200 spaces sought now would alleviate almost half of the problem. Another 100 spaces could be created when town offices are moved from town hall to the old East Junior High wings.

And Mahony notes that the town is cracking down on its parking rules — as is evidenced by repeat parking ticket offenders having their cars towed Tuesday. This will also help out with the parking problem.

The new parking lot, if funded, would help keep commuters and all-day parkers off the streets, he adds.

Vice President

Leslie C. Dirks, former instructor at Phillips Exeter Academy, has been named vice president-research and development for Raytheon Company. He will direct and coordinate research and technology programs throughout company's 11 divisions and eight major operating subsidiaries.

Dirks, who has served as deputy director for science and technology for the Central Intelligence Agency, succeeds Dr. Ronald B. Campbell, Jr.

In 1979 President Carter awarded him the National Security Medal for his "outstanding contribution in creating and directing a major technical intelligence program of great national importance."

and police may tow the car and store it at the owner's expense.

There's another catch to the law — and those of you with just one or two parking tickets are not being left out.

The Registry of Motor Vehicles is notified about anyone who has not paid a parking violation and will not renew that person's license or registration until the ticket is paid to the town where the violation occurred, according to Johnson. And the Registry gets to collect an additional $5 per ticket from the offender.

opening of the new Doherty Junior High School, according to Business Manager Frank Paul.

The school is expected to be completed on time, but it is expected some carpentry and other finish work will be ongoing when classes begin.

Paul said there may also be a report on the progress of the planned Citizens

The sea cucumber, a mollusc, contains holothurin which is toxic to sharks, and the skin secretion of the Moses sole (Pardachirus), which lives in the Red Sea, repels sharks, according to Massachusetts Audubon.

Advisory Committee, which would provide organized community input on school issues.

Schoolmen may also discuss in general or specific a review of school committee policy, said Paul.
